EVENT SUMMARY:

The Aloha Classic is one of the longest running wave sailing events in the world. Since its inception in 1984, the Aloha Classic has been the traditional finale of the Pro World tour. The top ranking international competitors are invited to the Aloha Classic competing side by side with Hawaii's best. The consistent trade winds and seasonally large surf make the Aloha Classic the most popular destination for windsurfing media, spectators and athletes. The Aloha Classic is the crown-jewel of wave sailing events. Don't miss the 2005, 20th anniversary edition, November 7-12, at Ho'okipa Beach Park, on Maui, Hawaii.

The historic 20th Anniversary of the Aloha Classic brings much needed focus and attention on the youth and amateur market and is be the show case for up and coming talent around the world. In addition, Pros, past and present, are be gracing this event, providing a high level of sportsmanship and excitement to the world over, and inspiring the next generation of windsurfers to take to the water.
